yard. Duck Pond sits on over an acre of lush yard, so whether to fish or to listen to the bullfrogs sing to you, it's a great place to meander to in the summer dusk. Adirondack chairs, a picnic table, and an antique glider and rockers are available for enjoying the outdoors and the peaceful mountain views during your stay. The family/great room is designed to be very comfortable and cozy, with the dining area and kitchen nearby. There's a stone gas fireplace - perfect to relax by on a cool Carolina Mountain evening and watch some TV. The upscale kitchen is equipped with granite counters, stainless appliances including dishwasher, along with everything you need to prepare a family meal. Just off the kitchen is the laundry area. The master suite is complete with a comfy king-sized bed, TV, and its own private bath with step-in shower and double sinks. On the opposite side of this one-level home is another hall bath, a bedroom with queen bed, and a third bedroom offering two twin beds. And, there's even a garage to park your car in just in case of rain! Want to go sight-seeing while on vacation? No worries - this home is located only 4 miles from West Jefferson and a short drive to nearby Boone, Blowing Rock and Banner Elk where you can visit Tweetsie Railroad, The Blowing Rock, The Blue Ridge Parkway, Grandfather Mountain, and Linville Falls - just to name a view of the many attractions in the area. There's plenty of wonderful dining opportunities in the area, and many quaint shops in the downtown areas. You can even see cheese being made in West Jefferson at the Ashe County Cheese Factory - the only one of its kind in North Carolina. And you simply must go by the cheese shop to sample and purchase some of the freshly made cheese!
